To Our Subscribers

Desiring to improve our paper, we have purchased a Mergenthaler Linotype. We assumed rather heavy obligations in buying this wonderful machine, but feel confident our subscribers will assist us in meeting same by settling their subscriptions P-R-O-M-P-T-L-Y.

The yellow label above shows the date to which your subscription is paid. If in arrears, please call and settle or send check.

Many subscribers do not realize what the little amount they owe means to the publishers. If they would only stop to think what a sum it would make if fifteen hundred subscribers were indebted for the same amount, they would not hesitate to pay up.

SUDDEN DEATH

TELEPHONE COMPANY

Comes to Mrs. Leora Gaitskill While Visiting at Estill Springs.

Had Been in Poor Health for Several Months.

Many hearts were saddened when the news reached here that Mrs. Leora Gaitskill wife of Mr. Webb Gaitskill, of this city, had died suddenly Thursday morning at Estill Springs where she had gone in hope of regaining her health which had been very poor for several months. Mrs. Gaitskill who was a daughter of the late Dr. Luther Jeffries had been a resident of this county for many years and was one of the best known and beloved women in it. She was truly a good Christian woman and her acts of kindness and charity to the poor were many.

She is survived by her husband and one brother, Mr. B. P. Jeffries, of this county, and many other relatives.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor Rev. H. D. Clark, with interment in the Machpelah Cemetery Saturday afternoon. The Advocate extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

If some people were to marry for brains instead of for money they would get left just the same.

Sends Special Agent Lord to This County For Several Weeks

Acquainting Telephone Users With Policy of Company.

Mr. F. P. Lord, special agent of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company, is spending a few weeks with Local Manager C. T. Chatham. The object of his visit is to assist Manager Chatham in acquainting telephone users with the "Bell" system in handling rural service. The company claims that the farmer is best served by co-operating with the company in the ownership and maintenance of the farmers' lines out in the county. It is claimed that it reduces the cost of the service and will extend it to those who have heretofore considered it too expensive.

These gentlemen are visiting the various sections of the county and holding meetings for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with the patrons and explaining the company's policies.

Beautiful Pattern Hats.

I will have many beautiful pattern hats at my opening September 17 and 18. If you want something extra nice attend this opening. Miss Alta Evans, Milliner.

COUNTY COURT

Fairly Good Crowd Attends Court in This City Monday.

Several Cattle Buyers Here From Ohio and Indiana.

Fully 5000 cattle on the market and 1000 to 1200 sold on Friday, Saturday (and I am sorry to say) Sunday, before court. Trade was very brisk and the scales were very busy weighing. Ohio and Indiana buyers made things hum, much to the sorrow of some of our home buyers. Prices were strong and anything decent sold at from $6.50 to $7. Yearlings at $6.50 to $6.75, heifers at $5.25 to $5.75, cows at 5 to 5½c, bulls at 5 to 5½c, old cows and rough oxen at 3 to 4c.

Good crowd at the pens and a great many cattle sold during the day. In talking, the buyers from Washington C. H., Gambier and Blatensburg, Ohio, said they had the best corn crop they had had for years and the Indiana parties reported fine corn crops. The market would have been slow but for these buyers, as our home people have only about half corn crops and no grass to speak of.

HEAVY DAMAGES

Awarded Family of Popular Railroad Engineer.

Case Will Likely Be Carried to Supreme Court.

The jury in the case of Addie Kelly, Administratrix, etc., vs. The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company rendered a verdict for the plaintiffs Saturday, in the Montgomery Circuit Court, in the sum of $19,011.00. This is probably the largest verdict ever rendered in a damage case in this county and will be fought vigorously through all the courts. Matt Kelly, who lost his life some two years ago, while in the employ of the defendant company, as a locomotive engineer, was one of our most popular and upright citizens. The case will first be taken to the Court of Appeals and then to the Supreme Court of the United States. This last step can be taken because the case is brought under what is known as the Federal Employers' Liability Act, which is an act of Congress and gives the U. S. Supreme Court final jurisdiction.

Just before Circuit Court finally adjourned Saturday for the term, the members of the bar and court officials presented to Special Judge A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville, Ky., a handsomely engraved silver mounted hand cane as an evidence of their esteem and friendship. County Attorney Senff made a brief presentation speech and Judge Kirk, taken completely by surprise, feebly responded.

The term of court lasted two weeks and much business was transacted. During his stay in our city Judge Kirk made many friends and received numerous compliments for his uniform fairness, patience and consideration while on the bench.

Gone to Washington In Interest of Road

Mr. Henry R. Prewitt left Tuesday at noon for Washington, D. C., to confer with Senator James and Congressman Fields and will get these gentlemen to assist him in trying to persuade the government to send an engineer here this fall and begin the work on the Maysville pike. The money has been appropriated by the government and the part to be subscribed by the counties has been raised.

It is hoped he will be successful in his mission and that work will be started at once on this great improvement.

It is reported the price paid was $115.00 per acre. The farm has residence, tobacco barns and other improvements on it. This sale was made through W. Hoffman Wood.

PROMINENT TAXPAYERS

File Big Petition With Acting County Judge Thompson.

Want Chance to Vote for Commission Plan of Government.

Messrs. R. A. Chiles, Robert H. Winn, Howard C. Howell, W. Lois Thompson, Robert C. Gatewood, A. Sid Hart, C. C. Chenault, J. Prewitt Young, Wm. S. Lloyd, Robert E. Tipton, and three hundred and fifty other leading taxpayers of Montgomery county, filed with Acting County Judge C. G. Thompson, Monday, a petition asking for a submission to the voters of the county, at the approaching November election, of the question "Whether the Fiscal Court of the county shall be composed of three commissioners, to be elected from the county at large, and the judge of the county court."

During the month of October a campaign of education will be conducted in every precinct of the county, with a view of informing the people of the many merits of this new plan of government, so that when the election day arrives it will merely be a question of majority.

Large Crowd Attends Services.

A large crowd gathered at the Methodist Church Sunday evening to hear the farewell sermon of Rev. B. C. Horton, who has been pastor of this church for the past four years, and who will this week be transferred to another church by the Conference. None of the other churches held services in order that the congregations might go to hear Mr. Horton. After his sermon addresses by Rev. H. D. Clark, Messrs. J. G. Winn, L. T. Chiles, W. C. Hamilton, and Mrs. B. F. Thomson were delivered and were all complimentary to Mr. Horton and the work he has done while here. He leaves our city with the best wishes of many friends.

Wm. J. Gaynor Dies on Ship During Ocean Trip

Mayor William J. Gaynor died on the steamer Baltic in midocean at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to a cablegram received in New York.

News of his death came in a message sent by wireless and cable to Robert Adamson, his secretary, by Rufus W. Gaynor, his son, who sailed with him. The message read as follows:

"Father died Wednesday at 1 o'clock, due to heart failure. Notify mother."

Mayor Gaynor sailed away from New York, a fast failing man, on the morning of September 4. An hour before he sailed, but one man, his secretary, knew of his plans outside of members of his immediate family. The Mayor's announced purpose was a brief vacation on the ocean. He felt that the tonic effect of the salt air would restore him in some measure to health.

The Baltic arrived at Queenstown Friday. The Mayor died as she was nearing the other side. The news of his death was sent by wireless to Cuxhaven by Rufus W. Gaynor, and relayed from Cuxhaven to New York by cable.

Lacking details of the manner of the Mayor's death, his friends believed that the heart attack spoken of in Rufus Gaynor's cablegram, was brought on by a return of the coughing fits that had recurred at intervals since he was shot.

Although the Mayor had no premonition that his trip would end fatally, he had at different times within the last year or two told his secretary that the violence of these attacks were a great strain on his heart, and he feared at some time or other one might result seriously.

Cultivation of Ginseng.

Some years ago there was something approaching a ginseng craze in Kentucky. A large number of ginseng "farms" were started. A few of them survive, but most of them have gone the way of all the earth. Only twenty-five farms reported ginseng when the Federal census was taken in 1910 and the value of their entire product was less than $4,000.

It is evident from the census figures that Kentucky farmers are not getting rich very rapidly on ginseng and that very few of them, in fact, are cultivating it. The ginseng idea, however, is still rampant in some other sections of the country, and the United States Department of Agriculture recently issued a bulletin on the subject which gives some valuable advice.

Plunging in ginseng, the bulletin says, is as likely to prove disastrous as in other forms of enterprise. The suggestion is offered that culture of any special crop is best begun in an inexpensive and experimental manner, "enlarging the equipment only as reasonable success seems assured." As a commercial product the Agricultural Department regards ginseng as particularly liable to overproduction. The belief also is expressed that it holds out "little inducement for inexperienced growers looking for quick profits from a small investment."

This is not very encouraging to persons who are disposed to look upon ginseng growing as a get-rich-quick game. As a matter of fact ginseng is a slow grower and its cultivation involves a large amount of labor and patience.

Human character is like fruits and vegetables in that the soonest ripe is generally soonest rotten and those that are slowest in attaining perfection are longest in ripening it.

Impeachment of Sulzer Regular.

Justice Hashbrouck, of the State Supreme Court, has decided that Gov. Sulzer was regularly impeached and while awaiting impeachment trial was divested of the right to exercise his executive functions, including the power to pardon.

The question of the legality of Sulzer's impeachment came before Justice Hashbrouck in connection with habeas corpus proceedings brought to compel the New York City authorities to honor Gov. Sulzer's pardon of Joseph G. Robin, the banker convict. He decided that Robin's pardon was invalid, quashed the writ and sent Robin back to prison at Blackwell's Island.

ECZEMA THAT SPREADS.

How a Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Man Found Relief in Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxon Salve.

"I had been troubled with weeping eczema for months and used many preparations for skin troubles without relief. The first application of Saxon Salve allayed the dreadful itching immediately and after further use my skin trouble entirely disappeared. Saxon Salve was just what I needed. —W. H. Glynn, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

In eczema the little vesicles or pimples are filled with a fluid that burns and tortures the skin the moment they are torn open by scratching. This causes it to spread. In such cases we can conscientiously recommend our new skin remedy, Saxon Salve, for its action on the skin in all forms of eczema and other distressing skin troubles is indeed marvelous.

If it does not help you we will return your money. Wm. S. Lloyd, druggist, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

ALWAYS "SELLS IT FOR LESS"

GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME.

(Tid Bits.)

The world, they say, is gettin' old and weary as can be, But write me down as sayin', It's good enough for me! It's good enough, with all its grief, its pleasure, and its pain. An' there's a ray of sunshine for every drop of rain!

They stumble in the lonesome dark, they cry for light to see, But write me down as sayin', It's light enough for me! It's light enough to lead us on, from where we faint and fall, An' the hilltop nearest heaven wears the brightest crown of all.

They talk of the fadin' hopes that mock the years to be, But write me down as sayin', There's hope enough for me! Over the old world's wailin', the sweetest music swells,

In the stormiest night I listen and hear the bells—the bells!

This world o' God is brighter than we ever dreamed to know; It's burden's growin' lighter an' it's love that makes it so.

An' I am thankful that I'm livin' when love's blessedness I see, 'Neath a heaven hat'e forgivin' when the bells ring home to me.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Butter and Eggs And Merchandising

By HOLLAND.

MR. FARMER, do you spend money with mail order houses? Do you send your cash to Chicago or New York while doing a credit business with your local merchant? You do not? Then we congratulate you and beg to say that these words are addressed to the man who does.

You, Mr. Mail Order House Patron, should think a few thoughts before buying another money order or draft payable in Chicago. Think what sort of welcome you would receive if you went to that big Chicago concern with a few pounds of butter or a few dozen eggs! Would the Chicago concern buy your eggs, think you? Would it take your butter and give you in exchange sugar that is sold at such a narrow margin of profit that the weighing must be careful and close or there will be a loss? Hardly.

The mail order house insists on cash—cash in advance. There is no bartering and no credit. It is "Send me your money first if you want my goods."

It will be to your advantage directly and indirectly to spend your real money where you take your butter and eggs.

John Wesley.

John Wesley was born June 17, 1703, and died March 2, 1791. Among his last words were: "The best of all is, God is with us." He was buried between five and six o'clock on the morning of March 9 from City Road Chapel. He preached over 42,400 times, an average of fifteen times per week. He gave away, during fifty years of his life, $150,000. He published about 200 volumes. He never lost a night's sleep in his life before his seventieth year. His favorite maxim was: "Always in haste, but never in a hurry." He never worried. He said: "Ten thousand cares are no more weight to my mind than 10,000 hairs to my head." Dr. Stevens says of him that he preached the "everlasting gospel oftener and more effectually than any other man for sixteen hundred years." The last open-air sermon preached was from the words: "The kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel." The last sermon preached was on Wednesday, February 23, 1791, from the text: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near." His last entry in his account book read: "For upwards of eighty-six years I have kept my accounts exactly; I will not attempt to do it any longer, being satisfied with the continual conviction that I save all I can and give all I can—that is, all I have." Hester Ann Rogers, who was present at his death, thus wrote of the last scene: "The solemnity of the dying hour of that great and good man, I believe, will be ever written on my heart. A cloud of the Divine Presence rested on all; and while he could hardly be said to be an inhabitant of earth, being now speechless and his eyes fixed, victory and glory were written on his countenance and quivering, as it were, on his dying lips. No language can paint what appeared in that face! The more we gazed upon it, the more we saw of heaven unspeakable!" — Pacific Methodist Advocate.

A BIT OF ADVICE.

First---Don't Delay. Second---Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache, headache or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble—they are recommended by thousands. Can residents desire more convincing proof than the statement of a citizen of this locality?

M. P. Lowry, 23 Taylor Ave., Winchester, Ky., says: "When I used Doan's Kidney Pills I found them very satisfactory. I recommend them for kidney complaint and backache."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask DISTINCTLY for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Lowry had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WEIRD AND WONDERFUL WAIL

Bray of the Chinese Donkey Put on Record as Unlike Anything Else on the Earth.

In all the east today the donkey is a favorite means of transportation, both for travelers and merchandise. It was so in the days of the patriarchs Isaac and Jacob, says the Louisville Courier Journal, and so it will probably remain for ages to come.

But nothing in China is just like the same thing anywhere else in the world, and the donkey is no exception. Dr. Chester of Nashville, who while evangelizing in Arkansas in his younger days, had become familiar with the easy amble of the long-eared American species, was induced to make trial of the Chinese type during a visit to China a few years ago. His experience was disappointing. The gait was a rough, insufferable jog, and the characteristic Bray was a painful phenomenon in the realm of sound. Dr. Chester reports his impressions as follows:

"The power of heredity, working through millenniums of isolation, with no modification from foreign admixture, has developed in the Bray of the Chinese donkey a quality of its own. There are no words in English to describe the heart-rending pathos of it. It was as if an appeal to heaven against the cruelty and oppression of ages were at last finding utterance in one long, loud, undulating wail. And when our party of three met another party of six, and all nine of the donkeys began at one time to exchange the compliments of the day, then pathos gave place to terror, and you could only sit appalled and trembling as the mighty reverberation rolled away on its journey around the world." — Youth's Companion.

MODERN CHILD.

"We had visitors in school today" announced small Velma at the dinner table. "Teacher's brother and her fiance."

"Fiance?" repeated father. "Are you sure it wasn't her beau?" he cautiously asked.

"Oh, no," stated Velma, "it was her fiance."

"What's the difference between a beau and a fiance?" queried father.

"Lots," quoth Velma. "A beau is only a fiance in the pin-feather stage."

"My gracious!" exclaimed mother.

"Where did the child learn that?"

Velma had a tremendous respect for matrimony, by the way. When she was six she had already determined her career.

ONE OF THE DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP.

Tuesday, October, 7th, is Registration Day and every voter of the city, who is here between the hours of 6 a. m., and 9 p. m., unless prevented by sickness, must register, in order to be allowed to vote during the ensuing year.

Every year a number of citizens lose their right to vote by going to the Lexington Trots that morning and not registering before leaving the city. No Democrat should let anything, except sickness or absence from home during the hours named, prevent him from registering and our Democratic neighbors should be reminded of this requirement.

The right to vote is a sacred duty and failure to exercise that privilege is conclusive evidence of one's lack of appreciation of the obligations of citizenship.

OUR FIRST MODEL HIGHWAY.

Montgomery county is not likely to have its first model highway earlier than next year, as little highway construction work can be done in the winter, other than the securing of quarry rights, the making of maps, plans and such other detail work of a preparatory character.

Congressman W. J. Fields did all he could to assist us in securing government aid and our citizens are duly appreciative of his efficient efforts. It remained, however, for our friend Senator Ollie M. James to make the movement a certainty by putting his big shoulder to the wheel and while this road has been known as the Maysville pike "since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary," since it is the first highway in Kentucky to receive government aid, when completed, we move that its name be changed to the "Ollie James Highway."

THE HAZELRIGG BIBLE CLASS.

The Hazelrigg Bible Class is an organization truly worth while. It is not made up of the long-faced sort, but of manly men, who without professing perfection, want to do something of real benefit, not only for the individual members, but for the community at large. This spirit actuated the arrangement for the coming to our city of the Rev. Earle Wilfrey, of Washington, D. C. His recent lectures were splendid and every one who heard him is now better by having done so.

This class is pursuing the right course and we expect to see it quickly become a potent power for good in our midst; in fact, we believe we are in keeping with absolute accuracy when we say it is already such.

The work on Maysville street is progressing at the pace set by the proverbial snail.

BOTH PROPOSITIONS SHOULD CARRY.

If the constitution is amended so as to permit convicts to be worked on the public highways of the State, the taxpayers would receive the benefit of their services and the men would, at the same time, be given a more healthy occupation, while if they continue to be employed as now, the contractors and a few grafters reap a harvest from their labors, while the State supports them. The people will have an opportunity to vote on this question this fall and this proposition is second only in importance to that calling for the commission plan of government in the county, which directly and vitally affects us locally. We are heartily in favor of both propositions and sincerely hope they will carry by overwhelming majorities.

MY HOSIERY.

By Susan Cornelia Connolly in Muncey's Magazine.
The hours I've spent with them and patched
Seem like a waste of time to me,
I look them o'er—each one mismatched,
My hosiery—my hosiery.
Each sock in holes—each hole a snare
To catch the toe in hurry slipped;
I scan each sock unto the end—
And there—I find 'em ripped!
Oh, silken hose that fray and tear!
Oh, bitter loss and barren past!
I buy "hole-proofs" and strive—alas, I swear
That none will last—dad gum
That none will last!

Getting the Most Out of the Farm Manure.

Farmers should use time in the fall after the busy cropping season is over to clean the manure and litter out of the horse and cow stalls, and the cattle, hog and sheep sheds, and to haul out the remnants of old straw stacks and the tramped-down and rotting material surrounding them. All such material should be scattered on the land and now is the time to do it.

The winter feeding season will soon be here and this means the accumulation of a large amount of manure, which if correctly saved and applied is exceedingly valuable. Every hundred pounds of stable manure is worth 10 to 15 cents, every ton from $2.00 to $3.00. The liquid is more valuable than the solid and should therefore be saved by the use of ample bedding material.

Improper handling of manure results in great loss. Careful tests have shown that it loses half its value in six months if exposed to the weather in the ordinary manure pile. Care must be taken to prevent heating, leaching and waste of the urine. Most of this loss is prevented when stock, such as cattle and mules, are fed in sheds, the manure being tightly compacted by the tramping of the stock, which excludes the air and prevents heating, the urine being saved by abundant bedding, and the sheltered situation preventing leaching by rains.

On account of sanitary considerations manure can not be allowed thus to accumulate in the dairy barn, in which case it should be removed to a shed or covered pit to prevent loss. It pays to provide such protection for the cow manure, but if the dairyman does not have a shed or pit the manure should not be allowed to accumulate, but should be regularly hauled away and scattered.

One advantage of live stock farming is that it furnishes a supply of manure. The stock farmer keeps most of his farm in grass, hay and forage crops, and this means that the plant food is kept in the soil and the land is prevented from washing. He carefully saves and applies the manure and his land grows more productive each year. Good crops can not be grown without manuring the land in some way—either by commercial fertilizers, green manure crops, or stable manure, and for Kentucky farms stable manure is by far the most profitable means of fertilizing.

The writer in his own farm practice has hauled and scattered many hundreds of loads of stable manure. Much of this was placed on washed, thin, and gullied land, and on this land to-day are growing rank sods of grass.

Kentucky farmers have in the past failed sadly in making the most of their stable manure. On thousands of farms there are fields that have been cropped for generations without the application of a single forkful of manure. With proper attention given to fertilization, with stable litter supplemented by the rational use of ground limestone and ground phosphate rock, and with good rotation systems the crop yield of the next generation could be doubled in the next generation.

Undoubtedly our farmers will find this work highly profitable. In a recent address in Kentucky, Dr. C. G. Hopkins, of Illinois, said "There is no investment which an honest man can make which will pay so high returns as time and money spent judiciously in land improvement," and it might be added that is no method of soil improvement available to Kentucky farmers so sure as the hauling and scattering of stable manure, and now is the time to do it.

Local Race Track

The Best in Indiana.

There were eleven head of blooded Kentucky horses in the racing stables at the local fair grounds this week and there were some fast ones in the high class string, both trotters and pacers. These horses were from Mt. Sterling, Ky., and the same owners were here last year with some racers equally as good as the ones that negotiated the track here during the past week. All the Mt. Sterling owners and other horsemen said that Crawfordsville had the fastest half mile track in Indiana without a doubt. Alex McKay, a veteran horseman from Pulaski, Tenn., who had a string of three horses here during the past week, says it is given up by horsemen that the Crawfordsville track has all other half mile tracks in this State in a class below it. He has been looking after all the tracks in the Interurban Circuit because of his experience in such work and his long record as a race horse man.

The big sensation of the week was the two-year-old trotter,

"Hugh Miller," owned by John

M. McCormick, of Mt. Sterling,

Ky. This colt started in the three-year-old or younger class and passed under the wire only a length behind the winner. Time,

2:18. This youngster will be heard from if he keeps up his pace.

Mr. McCormick's "Omyree," which started in the 2:24 and 2:30 trot, negotiated the fastest mile in the 2:24 stake race trot in 2:18.

Charley Bean, another Mt. Sterling man, started "Alice Lewis" in the 2:25 pace. She was driven by H. B. VanEvera to victory in three straight heats. Time, 2:15½,

2:16½, and 2:18½. It was pretty

"Col." Peter Hensley, an aged darky who has seen more than sixty summers, a member of the Kentucky State Agricultural Association, who had horses at Crawfords-ville. His "Happy Todd" made a fine showing in the stake race for 2:24 trotters. The old man has a lot of real coin of his own and he really doesn't have to follow the race horse game. He does it for the sheer pleasure he gets out of it.

Demonstration in the Use

Of Hog Cholera Serum.

Arrangements have been made with the State Commissioner of Agriculture whereby the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station will give a practical demonstration in the method of administering hog cholera serum, at the State Fair. This demonstration will be given on Thursday, September 18, at 10 a. m., on the State Fair grounds, and should prove of interest to all farmers and hog raisers in the State. In addition to the demonstration, practical talks will be given on hog cholera, its diagnosis and post mortem lessons, the care of sick and well hogs, the work of the hog cholera serum laboratory and State and Federal laws governing the quarantine and control of hog cholera, by Dr. Robert Grimes, Dr. J. H. Kastle, Director of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Commissioner John W. Newman, and others. Altogether this meeting promises to be one of great interest to all farmers and hog raisers and should prove one of the most instructive and valuable features of the State Fair.

Crop Report for Kentucky.

Issued September 10, 1913.

The general condition of crops in Kentucky as of September 1st is anything but encouraging. On August 1st an estimate was made by the various crop reporters in the State with the hope that rain would fall. Scattered rain did fall during the latter part of August, but they were either not sufficient or not soon enough to make the first of September estimate of the crops even as high as the estimate of August 1st.

Corn has dropped to a condition of 58.4 per cent, which means but little more than a half crop. Burley tobacco still remains at 65 per cent, but dark tobacco has dropped to a condition of 54 per cent. Alfalfa is 70 per cent, cowpeas 84 per cent and soy beans 72 per cent of an average crop. The spring sown clover shows an average condition of 63 per cent. The leguminous crops have held their own better than any other crop during this drought. Bluegrass is given at 60 per cent, orchard grass at 62 per cent and pastures as a whole are very inferior.

Live stock has suffered very materially on account of short pastures and scarcity of water. The condition of horses is given at 90 per cent, cattle 88 per cent, hogs 85 per cent and sheep 92 per cent. The condition of poultry has likewise declined. Chickens are given as 92 per cent, turkeys 80 per cent and ducks 85 per cent.

All kinds of fruits have deteriorated. Apples are small; many dropping from the trees, and their condition is given as 67 per cent, peaches 74 per cent, plums 58 per cent and pears 58 per cent. Garden conditions are deplorable, dropping to 44 per cent.

Abundant rain falls would not help anything as far as this year's crop is concerned. The corn crop would grow worse instead of better should abundant rains fall now; the same is true of tobacco. The danger in the curing period for corn and for tobacco is in having an excessive amount of moisture.

Rains now would only have a tendency to spoil what is left of these two crops. Moisture is needed very badly for fall seeding, and would benefit next year's crop in this respect. Good rains would improve fall pastures. Water for stock is a serious problem in many localities and many fires are reported as a result of the dry weather. A match dropped in pastures in the condition in which they are at present is almost like dropping a spark in a powder magazine. The water supply in many towns in the State has given out, and fire losses as a result of the drought are bound to be great.

One hundred and fifteen estimates of the cost of growing an acre of corn show an average estimate of $13.95. Last month's estimate of the cost of growing an acre of wheat was $10.16. It is interesting to note that the general opinion is that it costs $3.79 more to grow an acre of corn than an acre of wheat. Last year's corn production in Kentucky was 30.4 bushels per acre. The present report would indicate a yield of about 18 bushels per acre for this year. Corn would have to bring about 77 cents per bushel on the average, based on this estimate of $13.95, to pay the actual cost of production.

Sig. Sautelle's Big Street Parade.

There are parades and parades. Mankind's love for pageantry displays dates back to the days when the immortal Caesar "brought many captives home to Rome." When, to give eclat to his fame, he entered the Eternal City with lavish display of glittering splendor; with fanfare of golden trumpets, chariots, and beautiful maidens, who scattered flowers in the pathway of triumph.

So, Sig. Sautelle and His Aids, catering to that Great Critic, the Public, will present to the good folk of Mt. Sterling, Friday, Sept. 19th, at fair grounds, a replica of those olden, golden days—with modern 20th Century accessories of the times luxuriant. The cages in his parade will be open. The wild and tame animals, behind secure iron bars, will gaze back at an interested and amazed public. Prancing steeds, golden chariots, Royal Bengal tigers, leopards, panthers, jaguars, hyenas, cougars, in fifteen open dens. Four bands of music, a coterie of funny clowns, to add humorous variety to the splendor of it all.

Those who delight in spectacular scenes should be early on the streets the morning of "show day." The wondrous spectacle will excite and interest all, from kiddies to grown-ups. Features of the big circus proper, the hippodrome, menagerie and Wild West will appear in winding line of scintillating pageant splendor. "Don't miss it, Good People," as the ballad singer so eloquently beseeches. "Twill be the crowning glory of your lives. The keynote to revelry of keen enjoyment."

Don't forget the date and place, Friday, September 19th, at fair grounds, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Owingsville at Last

Will Have Railroad.

A dispute from Owingsville says:

After many, many years, not only of fruitless efforts, but of costly failure, Owingsville is at last to have a railroad. The road will run from Owingsville to Olympia, a distance of about six miles, and will intersect the C. & O. at the latter place. It will also meet the road which will be built from Olympia Springs to Olympia. Salt Lick is also making an effort to build a road to connect with the Owingsville road at Olympia. Mr. Hubbard, the contractor, began work with a considerable force of hands and teams on the new road last week, and will soon be able to employ all the labor obtainable. His purpose is to complete the road before winter.

OUT OF FORTY-ONE STATES

Thirty Give Favorable Consideration to Laws Dealing With Consumption.

Out of forty-one states legislatures in session during the season of 1913, laws dealing with tuberculosis were enacted in thirty states, while in thirty-four states consideration was given to bills dealing with the prevention of this disease. This is summary of the legislative campaign for 1913, issued by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today.

Appropriations to the amount of over $5,000,000 have been set aside for the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis by the various state legislatures in session this year. Most of this money is for the maintenance of State sanatoria. There are at the present time 39 such institutions in 31 different states, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania each having more than one sanatorium. Delaware is the only State which has made provision for a State sanatorium for tuberculosis negroes.

In addition to the amounts appropriated by the various State governments, Congress will be obliged to set aside nearly $1,000,000 for the maintenance of the United States Public Health, the Army and the Navy sanatoria, and the tuberculosis hospital of the District of Columbia.

Among the notable advances in the legislative enactments of this year, are the tuberculosis registration law of Colorado; laws providing for subsidies to local hospitals in Minnesota and Wisconsin, an act providing for the establishment of county hospitals in Indiana, and the establishment of State institutes for the prevention of tuberculosis legislation considered and enacted in 1913, is being prepared by The National Association.

LEBUS DEFENDS BURLEY COMPANY

Challenges Kehoe at Launching of Insurgent Campaign.

HOT SHOT FOR OPPONENT

Mayeville Banker Throws Hat Into the Ring, But Has String Tied to It—His Charges Against Management Answered, and His Record as Friend of Growers' Cause Assailed.

Lexington, Ky.—In a special dispatch from Williamstown, a staff correspondent of the Lexington Herald says:

"Ex-Congressman J. N. Kehoe, now a Mayeville banker, whom 'Reorganizers' recently besought to become their candidate for the Presidency of the Burley Tobacco Company, threw his hat into the ring here today. Although a string was tied to it, the fresh-cut tile immediately was subjected to a round of kicks calculated to batter even a crown. The seat of Grant County had been selected by bankers as fledgling ground upon which the prospective candidate could try his wings, their further course to be determined by the reception which his platform might receive. Judged by the enthusiasm of the steering committee, he acquitted himself to their satisfaction.

"An applause squad of eleven men, the captain of which labored a table top with walking cane, supplied noisy support for Mr. Kehoe's perils, but the more serious audience gave generous applause to Mr. Clarence LEBUS and Mr. Fred Stukey.

Likes Fit of Candidacy.

"Before he had closed, Mr. Kehoe virtually had declared his candidacy, provided conditions, which included an agreement as to salary, were fulfilled, and he assured his hearers that a 'Bright Leaf' ticket for directors soon would be announced.

"Mr. Kehoe declared that the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Stansifer case embodied his platform, and that 'usurpation of power' would be the issue upon which the contest would be pitched."

Mr. Kehoe's criticism of the management of the Burley Tobacco Company was in chief the charge that the provision in the charter for the election of officers by individual growers remaining loyal to the organization, instead of by the holders of stock, was put there with the purpose of usurping rights and of perpetuating men in office.

Answered By Mr. Stukey.

Challenging Mr. Kehoe's charges, Mr. Stukey said in part:

"We sought the best legal talent that we could get. What they advised we followed to the letter. We thought that we had devised the most democratic method of government, and that it was legal. We were afraid that in the course of time the American Tobacco Company might buy up enough stock to control the organization and put it out of business, as it had done to its rivals. That is why we inserted in the charter the provision that all members of the society remaining in the organization, and not outsiders who might buy stock, should control its affairs."

The management of the Burley Tobacco Company has had but one motive, and that has been to serve the best interests of all growers. If what he cites in the decision of the Court of Appeals was an error, it was the best expedient that we could devise and was endorsed by the best legal talent procurable."

Hot Shot From Mr. LEBUS.

The impromptu speech of the President of the Burley Tobacco Company was pronounced a masterly effort. He said in part:

"I am tired of history. I want to look forward. Your business should go forward, and never backward. I want to deal only with facts. If you have questions to ask, I will answer all I can now, and stay all night to answer more rather than go away leaving any doubts in your mind as to the fairness with which your business has been managed."

"I see several bankers here. I want to read an extract from a letter I have just received. It is from the President of one of the largest banks of Louisville:

"Some of the members of the board have noticed, naturally with some concern, the newspaper reports prints, under big headlines, and feel that if continued, the internal discord cropping out is bound, in a greater or less degree, to hamper the progress of the company, and greatly lessen its chances of success."

Shoulders $73,000 individually. Now, every man acquainted with the unwarranted and outrageous attacks made upon this company in the courts well knows to what this banker refers. Those suits in which the receiver was sought on grounds that were proved to be without foundation particularly are to blame for this injury to the credit of your business."

"We owe that bank $80,000, which was used in pushing the brand of tobacco which today gives such great promise. A note for $30,000 of this sum came due a few days ago, and there was hesitation about its renewal. I had assured the bank that it would be paid by September 1. I believed that it would be paid then, not anticipating the miserable obstacles that have been thrown in our way by enemies. To satisfy the bank of my entire faith in the stability of this business and the certainty of its future, I myself have signed the note for $30,000."

"In three banks in Lexington and one in Cynthiana I am on the company's paper for $85,000 more. I have lacked your business as an individual because I know that it is sound—so name I know right is on your side and that you are going to win in spite of all difficulties."

Challenge to Kehoe.

"Now let's forget this hullabaloo stirred up by a few complainers and get down to brass tacks. Is there any man in this house who wants to take over this liability I have assumed, and with it the burden in toll and harassment which I have had to bear? I never sought the office of President of this concern and I never will. When I was persuaded to take it I made the stipulation that I should not receive a cent except on the condition that the business should succeed. That was my platform. Will Mr. Kehoe agree to work for the company on the same conditions? Furthermore, will he agree to work for a salary to be fixed by the board, as I did?"

"I wasn't hunting a job. I wasn't hunting a salary. The first requirement I would suggest for any man proposed for the head of this business would be that he have an interest in it greater than any salary. The increased price on the 500 acres of tobacco I have grown has far outweighed any salary consideration, and also has made my interest identical with those of every other grower."

"The first trouble this company ever had came from Mason County. The county is not to be blamed for it. Mr. Kehoe, more than any man alive, was responsible. He organized a warehouse company. He secured the President and had his salary fixed at $2,400 a year."

Extortion is Alleged.

"Then he secured a contract with the county organization by which the growers had to pay his warehouse $1.25 for handling, whether in winter or summer order. The average cost of pricing was 65 cents. We protested against this excessive charge, but Mr. Kehoe stood firm. Records show that his warehouse company received $17,000 above the sum paid for handling in Harrison County. This extortion was one of the prime causes of the formation of the Burley Tobacco Company."

"And about this salary howl. In 1906 Mr. Kehoe received $2,400 for 3,764 hogsheads handled by his company, and in 1907 he received the same sum for 5,028 hogsheads handled. Those years the Burley Tobacco Society handled 50,000 and 65,000 hogsheads, respectively. According to his scale, a salary of $35,000 would have been paid to the President of the Burley Tobacco Society. So much for high salaries."

Record in Service.

"United we stand and divided we fall. Grand motto. If the majority want Mr. Kehoe, I am always for majority rule. He speaks of what has been done as 'what we have done. What has he been doing since 1908? What consideration may be claimed by any grower who has hidden in the bushes while loyal workers have been whipping the trust?"

"He did organize a warehouse company, which was sold out to the Louisville Warehouse Company. I never heard of his trying to organize a Burley growers' warehouse or of his giving any aid or sympathy to those warehouses established by the organization elsewhere. But he did organize a second warehouse company in Maysville after the first one had been sold out and tried to sell the stock in Burley territory. Also, he's a banker, but never have I heard of his growing to baccos."

Officers Should Know Business.

"What I want to emphasize is that growers should select men to conduct their business who are qualified with knowledge of that business. When I am sick I want a doctor, and not a lawyer or a politician. Mr. Kehoe has spoken of his efforts during the early years of this movement. Where was he in 1909 and 1910 and 1911 and 1912? As he has said, I would judge men for the future by their conduct in the past.

"I challenge any man to show that any member of the board has not worked conscientiously and honestly and faithfully for the interests of the whole industry. If you allow this business to fail, it can not be restored in a hundred years. Do I want seven or fifteen cents for the tobacco I grow? Do you want seven or fifteen cents for your tobacco?"

Growers Not Dissatisfied.

"As I have said, I am not a candidate for any office, but when a successor to me is chosen I want him to be a man who knows the tobacco business, and in whose hands my interests and the interests of every grower will be safe, and, as far as I am concerned, he can take over all the honors and salary and all the troubles and financial obligations I carry."

"We have got the best and greatest independent factory in the world. No business ever started off as smoothly and with greater promise. Are the growers dissatisfied with it? Believe you, only those who have been deceived by men who have resorted to misrepresentation. The 10 per cent received by Mr. Kehoe now attacks enabled the company to found this factory and bring competition to its own breaks. It enabled the company to protect the grower against excessive handling charges, such as were charged at Maysville. We have established loose leaf houses and warehouses all over the district, so that the farmer could have a market at home. The proceeds he uses in his own community, patronizing home institutions. He is conducting his own business and enjoying the profits."

Argument Premature.

"The burden of Mr. Kehoe's talk is the decision of the Court of Appeals in those Stansifer suits. Inasmuch as we are entitled to rehearing, use of this as his chief argument would seem premature. The manner of voting has continued from the beginning. Why hasn't he challenged it sooner? He is very sure it was wrong, he says, but he is late indeed in making it an issue."

"He describes the public statement made by the company. Does the Maysville Warehouse Company publish a list of its affairs to the world? Does the bank of which Mr. Kehoe is President observe any limits as to what it shall give out? For all of the shortcomings which Mr. Kehoe sees he recommends a remedy that the crowd whom he represents shall be put in control. The last analysis must be that the growers' organization has only one enemy."

NOTICE.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS AND HOLDERS OF WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS OF THE BURLEY TOBACCO COMPANY OF LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

The stockholders and holders of warehouse receipts of the Burley Tobacco Company of Lexington, Kentucky, are hereby notified that by order of the Kenton Circuit Court, Judge F. M. Tracy, presiding, entered on Thursday, September 11, 1913, in the case of E. B. Said meeting will be presided over and said election conducted by J. M. Rankin and Walter T. Loomis, Commissioners appointed by the Court for said purpose. At said meeting the stockholders may consider and act upon any question which they could consider and act upon at any regular annual meeting of the stockholders.

The stockholders are also notified that the above named Commissioners are now engaged in preparing a Stock Ledger for the purpose of determining the persons who will be entitled to vote at said stockholders' meeting, and to whom stock should be issued. Said Stock Ledger will be closed finally on the seventh day of October, 1913, and the holders of warehouse receipts, upon which stock certificates have not already been issued, are required to report to the Commissioners on or before the seventh day of October, 1913, any transfer or sale of such warehouse receipts. Kentucky's Great Trots at Lexington.

On Monday, October 6th, the greatest trotting meeting ever held will begin at Lexington and continue ten days, each day replete with sensational contests for the rich purses hung up by the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Association. All of the trotting and pacing stars that have been winning on the Grand and Great Western Circuits will be pitted against each other, many of the most notable performers meeting for the first time. In addition to these many trotters of the highest class that have been saved for racing at the close of the season will be started at Kentucky's Great Trots for the first time this year and surprises are certain to be the order of the day.

Although every day will have its thrills, the $3,000 Walnut Hall Cup, and the $5,000 2-year-old Futurity, on Monday, the first day, the $14,000 Futurity for 3-year-old trotters, the second day, the great Free-for-all Pace, $3,000, the third day, and the $5,000 Transylvanian, for 2:08 trotters, annually known as the championship stake for all ages, carded for Thursday, the fourth day, it is predicted will furnish the bitterest contests of the year, and no lover of a good race should miss any one of them. Advertisement in this issue. The Kentucky T. H. B. Association, Lexington, Ky., will furnish on application the list of eligibles to its $85,000 program.
